The Most Holy Trinity

The Deep End • Relational beings

Three years ago this week, Pope Francis issued his encyclical on the environment, Laudato Si': On Care for Our Common Home. In it, he calls for action to halt the destruction of the planet, arguing that preserving our natural environment should be an essential part of the Church's mission. The word 'creation' has a broader meaning than just nature or our world; it has to do with God's loving plan in which the earth itself and every creature has value.

But why are we talking about the environment on this, the feast of the Most Holy Trinity? Well, in Laudato Si', Pope Francis tells us that the Trinity is embedded in all of creation. Just as God is a communion, every one of God's creatures is relational, and the world a web of relationships. 'The Trinity has left its mark on all creation,' says Pope Francis. The implication of this is that we are all connected, we all share a common home, and we have a duty to protect and care for all that belongs to God. We need to become more aware of how our lifestyles affect both the earth and others, particularly those on the margins of society, and to consider also whether our actions are fair to future generations. Let us pray today, with Pope Francis:

'Triune Lord,
wondrous community of infinite love,
teach us to contemplate you
in the beauty of the universe,
for all things speak of you.'

TODAYS READINGS

The Holy Trinity.

At the Last Supper, Christ explained to the Apostles that he could not teach them everything because they were not, during his lifetime, sufficiently receptive. The Holy Spirit will be charged with continuing Christ's work for all the days of the future Church. It is the love of the Father that gives us his Son, while the Holy Spirit is ever leading us to know more of the truth.

First Reading

Deuteronomy 4:32-34, 39-40

Moses reminds the people of the great things God has done for them. It is easy to forget how God has worked in our lives. The countless blessings and graces that we take for granted can be easily missed. God is not a magician; he is a loving father to his children. At the same time we ignore at our peril that he is also Almighty God. We need to keep this in mind, walking through the Red Sea, in the desert, or in the Promised Land.

Second Reading

Romans 8:14-17

God is within us. God does not look down on his people; God looks out on his people. The Holy Spirit has been poured into our hearts. It is the Holy Spirit that makes us cry 'Abba Father.' Every prayer we offer is made at the prompting of the Holy Spirit. The Father, the Son and Holy Spirit have made us into living tabernacles.

Anniversary/Birthday Remembrance
