Pope Francis Prayer for protection from Coronavirus

O Mary, you shine continuously on our journey as a sign of salvation and hope.
 We entrust ourselves to you, Health of the Sick.
 At the foot of the Cross you participated in Jesus' pain, with steadfast faith.
 You, Salvation of the Roman People, know what we need.
 We are certain that you will provide, so that, as you did at Cana of Galilee, joy and feasting might return after this moment of trial.
 Help us, Mother of Divine Love, to conform ourselves to the Father's will and to do what Jesus tells us:
 He who took our sufferings upon Himself, and bore our sorrows to bring us, through the Cross, to the joy of the Resurrection.
 We seek refuge under your protection, O Holy Mother of God. Do not despise our pleas – we who are put to the test – and deliver us from every danger, O glorious and blessed Virgin. Amen.

EXTRACTS FROM PASTORAL LETTER

Solidarity

The story was told in the Irish media – early on in the pandemic – of a developmental worker in an area of our world, adversely affected by drought. The 'wash your hands frequently' advice is met in many instances in the developing world, with a child's confused response – 'with what water?'

It's a stark story. It's also one that gives us much pause for thought. However grave our pandemic problems are, parts of the world are much worse.

Less equipped to fight the virus, they are prey to the added misfortunes of famine, war and poverty.

A glance at the figures of those afflicted by coronavirus in the developing world demonstrates to us not only the sheer number of those who are suffering, it also reminds us of how even less able they are to defend themselves, against the graver aspects of its threat.

The annual Lenten Trócaire collection in the diocese has always been well supported as have various appeals for areas of the world in which some of our priests have ministered.

The annual Trócaire box appeal financial returns from the Lenten campaign of 2020 will be less this year. The good news however is that returns are still arriving and online contributions – directly to Trócaire – are up.

If you have not done so already, might I set you the challenge of returning the Trócaire box to your parish? The fate of so many lives hinges upon the return of those boxes.

This year, this is truer than ever.

The Dead

Annually the month of November is when the Church sets aside time to remember the dead.

Prayers are offered throughout the month for those who have gone before us, and outreach to those who grieve, is planned and encouraged.

This year, November comes to us in a climate of added grief.

We especially remember those who have died as a result of coronavirus, and we think of their friends and their families.

We remember also all those who have died in the past number of months and the restrictions that surrounded their funerals and prayer services.

Particularly poignant are those instances where relatives and friends did not get to say goodbye in person. In some instances, funerals could only be attended electronically.

Grief is added to grief in these cases and many are slowly working through this pain as the evenings have darkened and the outside temperatures have fallen.

It's difficult to overstate the weight that some are feeling this November. Let us remember them all, as the year closes.

Bishop Denis Brennan
